Lovebox Festival is back - Bigger, Badder and Better

Lovebox, the UK's biggest weekend House festival is back running on the 19th and 20th July in East London. With almost forty acts including Shy FX, Stormzy, Jack Garrett and Diplo, this will be the biggest line-up at a House festival ever.

With a staggering twelve stages dotted around the park, the festival will be filled to the brim with underground and mainstream acts. All the Lovebox acts will be doing surprise meet and greets with fans all over the festival. They will be signing a limited amount of merchandise and taking photos with fans - a first time festival opportunity..

A day one highlight will be the original “badmen” Big Nastie and Stormzy performing their debut single “Baddie” and fighting for the coveted LOVEBOX RB belt in a freestyle rap battle. Stormzy, a popular budding artist said “I look forward to performing at this festival every year and I can tell already that this year is going to be bigger, badder and better than the rest”

This will be the cheapest festival in London this summer with the baddest line-up so tickets will sell fast. They start from an affordable £36.60 per ticket thanks to Lovebox's sponsors, who are proudly supporting Lovebox's renowned initiative “affordable for all”. This initiative promotes reasonably priced London festival tickets for everyone.

To purchase a ticket for Lovebox, you can visit: Lovebox.net or visit Ticketmaster.co.uk. Follow the Lovebox twitter @LOVEBOX to find out on the day which artists will be “meeting and greeting” fans.
